

CARRANZA FORCE IS REPORTED BETWEEN THE AMERICAN TROOPS AND THEIR SUPPLY BASE

NO REASON GIVEN FOR SUDDEN CHANGE; CLAIM VILLA WAS ALLOWED TO ESCAPE

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Carranza troops stationed at Casas Grandes and other points of that section at the time General Pershing began his march into Mexico now are located at Juarez opposite El Paso and in the rear of General Pershing's columns, it was authoritatively stated today.

No reason has been assigned for the transfer of troops from points inland to the border.

From reliable sources it is stated that a Carranza detachment allowed Villa to pass southward on receipt of a message from the bandit leader that he was not warring against Mexico.

Columbus, Ohio, March 20.—Another detachment of United States soldiers left the barracks here today for Columbus, New Mexico, to join the expedition sent to Mexico. Twenty-three are cavalrymen.

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—A clash between the Villista and Carranza forces is imminent according to a despatch received today through General Gavi.

Villa fleeing south before the rapidly advancing American troops is apparently trying to break through the Mexican-American cordon closing in on him.

He is seeking a loop-hole in the direction of Namiquipa, through which he can escape into the mountains around Guerrero and Santa Anna, the familiar ground where he began his bandit career.

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Villa has doubled east and west to Namiquipa, according to a telegram received by General Gavi at Juarez today. He reports that Carranza troops are advancing from the south while the Americans are continuing their march from the north in an effort to close the net around the bandit.

Tucson, Mex., March 20.—Wreck trains were sent from here today to repair railroad bridges damaged by small bands of bandits, at Sacramento, and in the direction of Monterrey. The Carranza leaders are taking energetic steps to restore Canuto Reyes, a Villa follower.

San Antonio, Texas, March 20.—Little reason to believe that a clash between the American troops and Francisco Villa and his bandits would occur today, or even tomorrow, was indicated in reports today to Major General Funston from General Pershing, commander of the expeditionary force.

Funston's reports told the manner in which the forces are operating south of Casas Grandes. (Continued On Page Eight)

Attempt To Assassinate The Bulgarian Premier

London, March 20.—An unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Premier Radoslavoff, of Bulgaria, is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome.

HOUSE DEFEATS INCREASE TO WILSON ARMY MEASURE

PUT KAHN AMENDMENT ON THE RACK

Washington, March 20.—Representative Kahn's proposal to put the regular army at 220,000 men, an increase of 80,000 over the administration bill, was lost in the house today by a vote of 183 to 103.

The house then proceeded to other amendments.

A proposal to outdo the Kahn amendment by making the army 250,000 men was lost without a roll call.

Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee, has decided not to call up his army reorganization bill until the house bill comes up.

"It may be that we will take some portions of the house bill and revise our own, or we may merely submit the senate bill as a substitute for the house measure," said he. "In any event, I think I shall wait until the house acts before attempting to start a general discussion of the subject in the senate."

ALLIED COUNCIL TO BE HELD IN PARIS

Paris, March 20.—Lieutenant General Count Cadorna, the Italian commander in chief, arrived in Paris this morning to take part in the military political conference of the entente allies. Crown Prince Alexander, of Serbia, is due here tomorrow with Premier Pachitch.

Great Britain will be represented by Premier Asquith, several other members of the cabinet and General Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the continent. Premier De Broqueville will attend the conference for Belgium and General Gilinsky, aide de camp to Emperor Nicholas and the Russian ambassador to France, A. P. Iswolsky, for Russia.

Premier Briand will preside. The conference is looked upon here as of the greatest importance as it will decide the joint policies to be pursued during the next period of the war.

ACCIDENTS INCREASED

Columbus, Ohio, March 20.—Railroad accidents were fatal to 65 persons in Ohio during February, as compared with 59 the same month last year, according to a report issued today by the Public Utilities Commission. Steam road accidents were responsible for 59 deaths and interurban roads for 6.

THE MAN THEY'RE AFTER

LOCAL MAN OFFERS TO DRILL COMPANY

Columbus, O., March 20.—Though wounded in the Spanish war and unable to serve actively as a soldier, Harry W. Mathiott, of Portsmouth, is anxious to raise and drill a company if state troops are wanted in Mexico, he wrote Adjutant General Hough today.

CARRANZA PROTESTING AGAINST OCCUPATION

Washington, March 20.—General Carranza has formally protested against American troops occupying Casas Grandes in their pursuit of Villa and the American government has replied that the troops have been ordered specifically not to occupy Casas Grandes or any other towns or cities in Mexico.

The protest and reply were included in an exchange of notes between Acting Secretary Polk, of the state department and Eliso Arredondo, ambassador designated to the United States from Mexico.

After a conference early today between President Wilson and Mr. Polk, it became known that Mr. Polk in a note forwarded to Mexico yesterday said instructions had been sent to General Funston to keep his troops away from all towns.

The state department today had not received a reply from the request sent to Carranza for the use of Mexican railroads in transporting supplies to the expeditionary force.

Mr. Polk declared today that the United States had not requested permission to take over any railroads in Mexico, but had merely asked for permission to transport supplies. He denied emphatically reports that the request of the United States was in any sense a demand or an ultimatum.

CLAIM PEACE INSIGHT

Galveston, Tex., March 20.—"Immediate peace is in sight" is one sentence in a cablegram received today from London by a Galveston shipping firm, cancelling arrangements made for chartering a considerable amount of tonnage.

SHIPS SUNK

London, March 20.—The sinking of a neutral and a British steamship with the loss of one or more lives, was announced today. The Norwegian steamer Langelle, 974 tons, was sunk and her engineer was killed. Sixteen survivors were rescued. The British steamer was the Port Balhouse. Her mate, pilot and five men were drowned. The remaining members of the crew are missing.

London, March 20.—The Danish steamer Skodsborg, of 7,697 tons, has been sunk. Seventeen members of the crew were saved, three being lost.

WILSON TO SIGN BILLS

Washington, D. C., March 20.—President Wilson has told congress leaders he will sign the Philippine bill, including the Clark amendment for independence not later than four years, despite his disapproval of some of the details.

BERLIN HOUSEWIVES CAN BUY ONLY FIVE OUNCES BUTTER

Berlin, March 20.—(Wireless to Sayville)—The new regulations in regard to distribution of butter and potatoes went into effect today and the people of Berlin are now able to purchase these supplies only on presentation of cards. Each person will be permitted to purchase 145 grams (about five ounces) of butter weekly and ten pounds of potatoes each twelve days.

ALLIES RAID A GERMAN U-BOAT BASE

RUSSIANS RETURN TO OFFENSIVE

London, March 20.—Sixty-five allied aeroplanes today bombarded the Belgian coast town of Zeebrugge. All returned.

The following official statement was made:

"In the early hours of this morning a combined force of approximately fifty British, French and Belgian aeroplanes and seaplanes, accompanied by fifteen fighting machines, left and attacked the German seaplane station at Zeebrugge, and the aerodrome at Humilde near Zeebrugge.

"Considerable damage appears to have been done. The machines on the average carried 200 pounds of bombs. All the machines returned safely.

"One Belgian officer is reported seriously wounded."

Zeebrugge is on the Belgian coast, twelve miles northeast of Ostend. Since the German occupation, this port has become of considerable importance, particularly as a German submarine base. It is one of the principal points from which submarine operations in the North Sea are directed.

Berlin, March 20.—(Via London)—An attack made by French troops on the village of Vaux northeast of Verdun was repulsed with heavy losses, the war office announced today.

The violent attacks of the Russians in the lake region on the northern part of the eastern front were continued. The Russians charged repeatedly with strong forces but were beaten back with large losses.

RUMANIA MAY ENTER THE WAR

Athens, March 19.—(Via Paris, March 20.)—The impression prevails in high political circles at Athens that Rumania shortly will abandon her policy of neutrality, in favor of the entente allies.

Should Rumania enter the war, Greek officials would be placed in an embarrassing position, the force of which already is felt.

The feeling of allied diplomats seems to be that, if Greece desires to enter the war now, she will have to do so on her own initiative and with no conditions with respect to territorial compensation.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—General Carranza today replied to the American government's request for use of Mexican lines for movement of supplies to the punitive expedition, with a request for more complete information of exactly what the war department wants. General Carranza's reply was sent to President Wilson. The information he asks will be furnished.

A WEE BIT OF SENSE

Cincinnati has risen immeasurably in our estimation since last Friday, which sure isn't an unlucky day for her, seeing what has happened.

The cause of her exaltation lies in the fact that she has a judge, named Spiegel, as we recall it, who has common horse sense and applies it to the measure of his judgment. This rather rare talent he displayed on the day aforementioned, when certain alleged offenders were before him, charged with the heinous crime of advertising that they could extract a tooth painlessly and make a bridge for a specified sum. Didn't know that was a crime? Well, it is and a deep doubled dyed one, if some of the fool statutes passed by the last legislature—but shouldn't we move that adjective up several notches and place it directly before legislature—should be permitted to stand. For 'tis these which say that no dentist shall advertise, that is do advertising he has to pay for. The other kind is all right and he can even go so far as to put the D. D. S. on his wife's visiting cards and be in perfectly good form so far as "the ethics" are concerned. He can not, however, use the forms of publicity proscribed, though they be ever so decent and proper. That is what the law says, but the brave and sapient Cincinnati jurist says it is ridiculous, absurd and preposterous, and what is more to the purpose, an attempted encroachment upon a liberty and right that every individual has, to decently and honestly exploit his attainments and efficiency, therefore it is no law at all, being unconstitutional. So he wipes it off the statute book and every newspaper, the best means of advertising, says he is a most knowledgeable and just judge. Sure it is anyway, we have too much of this chasing up to the legislature to get it to keep somebody from doing something that somebody else considers all wrong just because he doesn't wish to pay for the same thing himself.

Editor Wynn, of the Picketon Republican, is a hopeful sort of customer, but right now he is on a lonesome sort of trail. According to his own statement "the kind of a man the Republican admires is the kind of a man that doesn't get sore at you every time you disagree with him on some public matter." Then, after explaining that the Republican is above petty jealousies, Brother Wynn observes "this publication wants to be a friend to everybody." Well, Charlie, there isn't any such animal as the kind you first indicated. It is the inherent and inalienable right of every man to have an opinion on public matters and he has assumed the right to consider all who disagree as mulishly stubborn ignoramus. As for being a "friend to everybody" that is a dream that may haunt editorial sanctuaries, but it is only a dream. The newspaper that does not make an enemy once in awhile is generally colorless and weak, without conscience or character. Nothing was ever accomplished in this world without tramping on somebody's toes. It is better to try and be just and fair, while sticking up for the right and for one's own opinions. You may make enemies but they will respect you and your paper.

We have come to the conclusion that one of the main reasons for the decline of river traffic lies in the lack of business judgment and energy upon the part of the river men themselves. They have not kept up pace with the times, they have not been as alert as the men in competing lines. Instead of working to keep up to standard they have sat down and growled at the world because their business was slipping away. And some of these days we are going to point out some of the drawbacks to river trade as they appeared to an unprejudiced observer, who is however, deeply interested in our rivers and those who do business upon them.

There's a lot of good in the world and there's a lot of unobtrusive charity being done by people who give for the love of giving. For the good that will result. For instance Saturday night a gentleman quietly came up to our home, handed us Five Dollars and asked if we would see that it got to that family of eight that was burned out the other night. "I just want to help them a little and I do not want any publicity in the matter," he said.

POLLY AND HER PALS

OF COURSE THEY'LL CONTINUE TO KICK

GETTING ACQUAINTED

Two citizens of this place who have known each other slightly for many years have recently gotten better acquainted. Each knew who the other was, but neither cared very much about the other. Their paths lay in opposite directions, and they had no occasion to come into contact with each other, and while there was no special enmity the one against the other, neither was favorably impressed with the other.

But lately they have been thrown together a good deal. They have met frequently and had many discussions. They now find that they like each other, and they actually seek each other's society, preferring it to the society of those whom they have known longer—and better.

All of which is to call attention to the fact that there are many people in the world whom we misjudge, because we do not know them more intimately. There are good fellows running loose, and getting along without us, but who, if we knew them better, would be of tremendous help to us. For you can not know a man, and like him, without finding him worth something to you.

Neither can you judge a man correctly until you come into the most intimate contact with him. Our prejudices are easily aroused. We sometimes meet a man and make up our minds that he is not to our liking simply by the way he parts his hair, or because of the color of the necktie that he wears. In fact, we nearly always make up our minds about a fellow as soon as we see him, sometimes before we see him, and it requires time to break down the prejudice.—Columbus Dispatch.

Catlettsburg high school young men disgraced themselves last week by unmannerly and boorish treatment of a visiting basketball team from Gallipolis. The visitors were locked in a hall, lights turned out and they were compelled to descend to the street via the ladder route. Looks like some old fashioned spanking across mother's knee was needed up at Catlettsburg.

We suppose that a certain distinguished journalist whose habit is at Gallipolis has duly repented the eulogy he passed upon wind and snow and sleet and rain alias winter and will be bursting forth into song one of these days over the glories of the Spring-time and the near approach of the good old summer time.

Anyway, it does not matter how much some may sneer, you must admit that there is a neatness and nobleness about those white and yellow high shoes the girls are wearing that is most attractive to the eye—that is if you take a peep as you go about the street and of course every one does that.

Tastes differ. Colonel Sibley does not like Mutt and Jeff any more. He thinks the humor is being stretched out too much. With more it is different. It seems to us that Mutt and Jeff have come back, that the original flavor is there in huge quantities.

There was that in the atmosphere Sunday that brought home to us all the fact that Mistress Spring was at the doorstep.

Some of our patrons have been disposed to comment upon the excellent manner in which we covered the big Jackson banquet of the Republicans. Well, that is the kind of paper we are trying to run—one that knows no politics or prejudice in its news, and one which will give to every happening all the space and attention it deserves.

Portsmouth has lost some mighty good men the past two years, men who had devoted their energies to building up the town, men who had carried the name and the fame of this place to the four corners of the country. It is up to some of the younger generation to get busy, to take up the burdens of boosting that have been laid down by those who have passed on to their eternal rest.

A crowd of boys were playing marbles under our office window Saturday afternoon all the time we were working on these paragraphs and in the hour and more we only heard one boy use language that was unbecoming. We took a look just for curiosity and the boy who swore was the best dressed one in the lot, apparently had come from a good home. What's the answer?

What's this we hear from police court? A policeman in a saloon playing pool and a fireman there too taking a drink, and both simply being among those present while the saloon keeper and his barkeeper double team on two patrons? It cannot be said to add to either the dignity or the effectiveness of the police and the fire departments.

And we suppose that if the yarn about the Pennsylvania leasing the Norfolk & Western should turn out to be true this time, the date of building us that new depot would be indefinitely postponed. At least it would go over until another year. For a definite proposition that depot is about the most nebulous and indefinite fact that ever came under our observation.

Congressman Charlie Kearns is again explaining why he did not stand by the president. In some ways Charlie reminds us of the June bug. He wears his headlight behind and he flashes forth after the procession has passed by.

We may hope that if the motorization of the fire department is to be accomplished, it will, at least, not proceed with the slow and solemn tread with which that "bust" in the reservoir is being repaired.

That youngster who paid a minister with a forged check for marrying him certainly carried depravity to its lowest depth. We cannot imagine anything worse. But it presents a queer study in human nature, nevertheless.

Mr. Roosevelt says he will not enter into any fight for the nomination. His idea is to bag the game without firing a shot.—Wagon Times-Herald.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-M-E-I-N-T-Y-R-E.

New York, March 20—Charlie Edson, the Man from Arkansas, is back on Broadway from Hail Moon Mountain writing pieces for the Morning Telegraph. About six months ago he suddenly disappeared and the next heard of him was that he was writing the Great American Hick Novel in the hills where he was born.

A breath from the West is Charles. He sees Broadway from the same angle that the crowd around the general store stove back home sees a dog fight on the main street. He has a natural writing ability and combined with it a self education that puts him in the class of the best writers in town.

He just pokes around in the odd nooks and corners of Gotham and turns up stories that city editors never knew were there. The other day he was browsing in Washington Square and found a serious little group of thinkers who were reading from the anthology of verse libre. Here is one of the poems that he heard:

My elbow knuckles
And the hollows under my knee
Are curious places.
My heels are melancholy
Dozing and drugging all day
My toes have turned sullen
From never being amused.

Chez Fysher has flashed on the Broadway horizon and then disappeared as silently as it came. It was a restaurant that was just a little too steep in its prices and there are a few gouges that will make New Yorkers buck—but very few.

The motive of the restaurant was to establish in New York a replica of the unique cafe chautant which M'Sieur Fysher used to conduct in Paris and it would probably have met with success if M'Sieur Fysher had not imagined that New Yorkers felt a rather exalted pride in being robbed.

A guest never knew whether the "convier" price was to be one dollar or two dollars. The "convier" was the right to sit at a table. They used to regulate it at the Chez according to the amount needed to pay the hired hands. Finally it was discovered that you could spend a week in the Paris Chez for about the same amount that you spend in the New York place in 15 minutes.

There being no one left to soak—M'Sieur Fysher quit Chez-zing.

It was a distinguished gathering at the Century theatre last week to honor William Winter, the veteran dramatic critic. He is now in his eightieth year and held down the dramatic editorship on a New York newspaper for 44 years.

It was really a benefit and Mr. Winter will be given about $5000 which will make his declining years more comfortable than they have been. The testimonial was inspired by his friend of many years, Viola Allen, the actress. At first Mr. Winter protested but was finally won over.

He sat in a stage box—mute with surprise at the wonderful tributes that were paid him. There is a quotation from "As You Like It" which fits him perfectly. It reads: "A lusty Winter, frosty but kindly."

The hotel men have had their little joke, Copeland Townsend, who has managed two big New York hotels, purchased a big high-powered limousine last week. He was taking his first drive through Central Park when a policeman stopped him and asked to see his license. Mr. Townsend had to remove his fur overcoat and gloves to get it—in the biting cold.

The officer inspected it gravely for a long time and then put it under a magnifying glass. All the time Mr. Townsend was shivering in the car. The officer finally handed it back saying: "It is a pretty thing." He had been rehearsed by the hotel men.

A Puzzle

The lady of the house was explaining things to the new maid. "An' what's this, missus?" asked the girl, indicating a metal bottle.

"That is a bottle which will keep things either hot or cold, whichever you desire," replied the mistress.

"How is it gwine to know whether you was things hot or cold?"—Chicago Herald.

A Gentle Hint

Mike Murphy, a contractor, became rich and tony, and got a handsome automobile. Mrs. Murphy invited Mrs. Clancy for a ride in it.

"Whatever you do," Mrs. Clancy, "don't talk to the shofter at all; not a word or a whisper to him, for it takes his mind off what he is doing."

So they started out at a rapid clip. The chauffeur went zip 'round the corner and zip 'round another corner, sometimes the car would be on two wheels. Finally Mrs. Clancy touched the chauffeur on the back and said:

"Mr. Shofter, I beg your pardon. I was told not to speak to you at all, but let me tell you that Mrs. Murphy hasn't been in the car for the last ten minutes."

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, March 20.—Rumors of early peace negotiations abroad and heaviness of lenders like U. S. Steel caused material declines in today's market.

The week in the stock market opened with some striking gains in those specialties, which recently claimed speculative attention but elsewhere the undertone was irregular. United States Industrial Alcohol made an initial gain of over five points and Crucible Steel, Studebaker, Westinghouse, Mexican Petroleum and Distillers rose 1 to 3.

Metals were fractionally higher and equipments made similar advances. United States Steel manifested further restraint and Canadian Pacific fell a point. Union Pacific and Erie were the only rails to show firmness. Anglo-French bonds were strong. Recessions extending to a point or more were recorded before the end of the first half hour.

Offerings became more extensive during the forenoon, the heaviness of steel, heading and a few other leaders having its effect on the general list. Not only were most early gains effaced, but prices of the more active specialties were a point or more under last week's final quotations. Bethlehem Steel fell 14 to 520. The decline seemed to be based in part on intangible rumors dealing with the foreign situation, but Mexican affairs, so far as they were reflected in those issues, were not a pronounced factor. Business diminished at midday and some stocks scored substantial recoveries. Bonds were heavy.

Lowest levels were recorded in the last hour, war issues and kindred specialties showing extreme losses of 2 to 6 points. The closing was weak.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, March 20.—Wheat prices took a decided upward swing today, influenced largely by the bullish nature of the Illinois state crop report. Crop damage advices from Missouri and denials that German vessels had been seized in Brazil tended also to give strength to the market. There also appeared to be less optimism in regard to chances of peace.

The opening, which ranged from 3/4 to 1 1/2 @ 2 higher with May at $1.08 to $1.09 1/2, and July at $1.06 to $1.07 1/2 was followed by a substantial further gain.

Trade at the last, however, was much unsettled and the market closed weak at 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 net advance, with May at $1.09 3/4 and July $1.08 1/2.

Corn responded to the strength of wheat. Offerings were light. After opening 3/4 @ 1/2 to 3/4 @ 1, higher, the market scored a moderate additional upturn.

Prices closed easy at 3/4 @ 3/4 to 3/4 @ 3/4 net advance.

Oats shared the firmness of other grain. A leading elevator company, however, sold freely on the advance.

Continued demand for hard carried the provision market higher all around. Trade in pork and ribs though, was small.

The bulge in price led afterward to profit-taking by long; and brought about a reversion mainly in pork.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 40.

Dear Miss Wise—I am coming to you for advice as I think you have given others good advice.

I am a girl 16 years of age. I have been doctoring for about a year. My mother has been married twice, is now living with her second husband. He treats me as good as he would one of his own. He pays the doctor bills which I would rather do myself. If I was so I could. I do not like for him to pay them but he insists on it. Neither my mother nor I can think of any way which I could earn money. I am not stout enough to do housework. Now Miss Wise I would be very thankful to pay if you could tell me any way I could earn money to pay the doctor myself.

IRENE.
You ought to be thankful you have a step-father who is willing to pay your doctor bills. You are too young to work, even if you were strong and healthy. Take life easy for a few years and try and gain back your health. Perhaps in a year or two you will be able to repay your step-father, if not in dollars and cents at least in kindness and love.

Dear Miss Wise—Please explain why a steel ship does not sink when it hits the water the same as any other piece of iron? I can't figure it out.

MECHANIC.
It isn't very hard to figure out why a steel ship does not sink. If the iron or steel in it were all in a lump it would sink. Anything will sink in water if it is heavier than the water is "displaces" or pushes out of place. A steel ship is just like a hollow box made of iron, but filled with air. The iron is spread out, so the hull of the ship displaces so much water, that it really weighs less than the bulk of the water it pushes out of place. Shaped as a boat, the iron is so much lighter than the water it displaces that it can carry a large amount of freight and several thousand persons and still be light enough to float.

Dear Miss Wise—What is the approximate strength of the Ohio National Guards?
WOULD-BE SOLDIER.
The O. N. G. is composed of 556 officers and 7,446 enlisted men.

Dear Miss Wise—Can a child be an orphan when one parent is living?

WANT TO KNOW.
Yes; the word is often used to designate a fatherless or a motherless child as well as one who has lost both parents.

Dear Miss Wise—Should sunflower seeds be planted in rich earth? I have tried two seasons to grow them, but without success.

LIZZIE.
Something must be wrong with the seeds as these ornamental plants with their gorgeous blooms will grow in almost any soil, without any special attention.

Dear Miss Wise—Could you please tell me who the man was that Jack Johnson won the championship from, and oblige. JACK.

Jim Jeffries was heavy weight champion. He retired and later Tommy Burns was declared champion, although he didn't win the title from Jeffries. Jack Johnson won the championship from Tommy Burns, and Jim Jeffries came back to defend his title. Jack Johnson won this fight and became champion. Jess Willard is now the champion prize fighter.

Dear Miss Wise—How high are Niagara falls? Are there any higher in the United States? At what falls was it that a professional jumper once lost his life in leaping from it?

BACK NUMBER.
Niagara falls are 164 feet high. There are several others in the United States higher, but none of them carries nearly the volume of water. Samuel Patch, born in Rhode Island in 1807, was killed in jumping from Genesee falls at Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 13, 1829.

A Ball on the Window Shade. It frequently occurs in adjusting spring roller blinds that the cord slips through the hand and the blind not only winds up to the top, but continues until the spring has spent its force and the blind and cord are rolled up out of reach. It is then necessary to use a chair or a stepladder to reach it. All this trouble and annoyance can be avoided if a small hollow rubber ball is obtained and holes punched through so it may be threaded on the curtain string and tied close to the stick. Should the blind slip away with this attachment the ball will jam up against the window frame, preventing further winding up.—Popular Mechanic.

Wise Toledo Mother Treats Her Children's Colds "Externally"

Mrs. Bertha Cook Finds the "Outside" Application, Vap-O-Rub, Better than Internal Dosing.

Intelligent mothers everywhere realize that children should be dosed as sparingly as possible. Still, croup and cold troubles must not be neglected. Mrs. Bertha Cook, 366 Lee St., Toledo, Ohio, has solved this problem by use of the external treatment Vap-O-Rub. Last winter when this treatment was being introduced in Toledo for the first time, Druggist C. E. Spey presented Mrs. Cook with a complimentary jar, requesting that she give it a thorough trial and report the results.

Mrs. Cook writes:—"I consider Vap-O-Rub the best medicine I have ever found for winter use, especially for children. It will not blister or burn, so the children don't dislike it and it is better than internal medicine in many ways. When I first tried Vap-O-Rub my little girl had had an awful cold and cough for some time. I used part of a jar on her and it gave great relief. During the winter I used two more large jars on my three children, and also on the grown folks of our family and found it fine for colds in the throat, head and lungs. In cases of hoarseness or croup I would just rub a little Vap-O-Rub over the throat and chest with a warm flannel cloth, and also give them a little piece, the size of a bean, rolled in sugar. When my baby, two and a half years old, had pneumonia I used Vap-O-Rub all night and found it a great help. I used it as directed and also dissolved some in hot water and boiled in a tea-kettle over her bed under a sheet tent. The vapors relieved the tightness in lungs and throat and proved a great help, and the attending physician advised my using it all winter with her. My three children all had whooping cough this summer, and I used it for this, applying it externally, and also using it in the tea-kettle, and found it loosened the cough and enabled them to raise the phlegm."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub comes in salve form and when applied over the throat and chest the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. In addition, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion. It will be found superior to internal medicines for all forms of cold troubles, from head colds, asthma and croup, down to deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis, grippe, or incipient pneumonia. Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00, at all druggists.

What is the 7th Point?

From Maine to California, from Texas to Hudson Bay, millions of people have been asking "What is the 7th Point in Sterling Gum?"

In practically every town, city and village in the United States and Canada, the published six points of superiority have brought Sterling Gum fast-growing popularity.

But the seventh point still remains a riddle.

Point ⑦ What?

Now, we are offering liberal prizes to those who send us the best suggestions for the Sterling Gum Point 7.

Before you make your suggestion for the 7th Point, read the following:

The Following Story Unfolds the Secret of the Famous Point 7

To most people chewing gum is a mystery. They may know that different chewing gums are made from different ingredients. But that is about all. Here are facts which we believe you will be glad to know about Sterling Gum:

Your Sterling Gum is made from the following materials:
The basis is the pure sap of the tropical Sapota Tree—a natural gum.
This natural Sapota Tree sap is boiled, sweetened and flavored. The sweetening is simply pure cane sugar and pure corn syrup.

The flavoring is of two kinds—Peppermint (in red wrappers), Cinnamon (in blue wrappers).

There are some twenty varieties of the mint plant. The Sterling Peppermint is a product of the choicest, smoothest-flavored of these many mint varieties.

The spicy Cinnamon flavor is extracted from the Cassia bush which grows in the tropics.

The sap of the Sapota Tree, the cane sugar, the corn syrup, the Peppermint and Cinnamon flavors all come from the sap of some plant or tree. Nature herself supplies these delicious materials from which your Sterling Gum is made.

Requirements for Winning Phrase

When you read the above facts on the material that Sterling Gum is made of, you will know all that it is necessary for you to know in entering this contest.

The first prize will go to the one whose suggestion, based on the above story, most impressively presents the natural purity of Sterling Gum—in the opinion of the judges. Remember that your suggestion must be in six words or less.

The next best suggestion will win the second prize—and so on down.

It is understood that the Sterling Gum Company will have the right to use the 7th Point suggestions sent in by the prize winners.

The contest is easy to enter. Just think out your way of expressing the 7th Point. Then write it out in six words or less and send it in as directed in the conditions printed below. Even if you don't win the first prize of $1,000, you stand a chance to win one of the 7,777 smaller prizes.

A Big Moment in "The City" Coming to the Lyric Wednesday.

Outside Wall street boiled and seethed with the mercurial rise and fall of a frenzied, nerve-frazzled market. But within George Rand's office, the echoes of the feverish activities of "change and curb" fell faintly—the ceaseless clack of the ticker alone connected the two men, facing each other across the mahogany table, with the financial flurry outside.

The man facing George Rand was ashen-faced and his breath came whistlingly, as if a hand had been laid chokingly on his throat. "It's a d—n lie!" he snarled out, as with long, nervous fingers that twitched unceasingly like the muscles of his frenzied face he flexed his collar.

George Rand, once more the cool, reserved banker after the storm that had just swept the two men back to the primitive for a red space spoke.

"She is your sister, I tell you," he repeated, with a deadly sort of calm. "It's your own sister that you want to marry, God help you."

Dustin Farnum

Dustin Farnum, Idol of Millions, in "The Call of the Cumberlands" at the Lyric Tomorrow.

"Ye haint never seed these here mountains with nothing green, no birds singing—nothing but rain and snow. They'll be like that for me all the time after Samson's gone." This is the plaintive wail of Sally Miller, the mountain sweetheart of Samson South, when she is besought by the artist to consent to South's departure for New York to work out his talents with paint and canvas. It is one of many homely, yet full-of meaning, speeches that occur in "The Call of the Cumberlands," the Pallas pictures offering which is to be seen at the Lyric theatre tomorrow on the Paramount program.

A spectacular battle in a street of a Kentucky town, with rifles blazing away from roofs of buildings and from doors and windows, affords a thrilling climax in the feud between two powerful factions in "The Call of the Cumberlands," which hold every element of interest for the photo play fan.

WHEN THE KIDNEYS NEED ATTENTION

Everybody Should Make A Habit of "Cleaning House," Regularly. Keeps Disease Away

How Weak Kidneys Cause Trouble
How Solvax Is Used to Disinfect the Human Machinery.

Thousands of people scrub their teeth every day, and yet a large percentage neglect a more important part of the body, the kidneys. If we could only look into our kidneys and see the millions of tiny poison crystals deposited there we would probably pay more attention to keeping them just as clean as the teeth. But we don't, and all of a sudden we feel a pinching pain in the side or back. The bones all over the body begin to ache and we say: "Gosh, I must be getting rheumatism," when, as a matter of fact it is only the kidneys calling for help. A test worth trying, to keep the kidneys clean and healthy is to take a Solvax tablet regularly. Solvax is being used by thousands of people and many surprising results are reported. Wurster Bros. and other good druggists always carry Solvax in stock because the demand is growing greater every day as people learn through the newspapers that this is the proper way to take care of the kidneys.

MANUEL (ORRIN JOHNSON) AND DOLORES (SEENA OWEN) IN "THE PENITENTS," A TRIANGLE-FINE ARTS STORY OF LOVE AND RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION IN NEW MEXICO.

At The Columbia Tonight

The Penitents are a fanatical sect who are flourishing in Mexico in the seventeenth century. They indulge in cruel tortures during their ceremonies. While celebrating the Crucifixion in a realistic way up in the mountains the Indians attack their settlement. When the Penitents return to the settlement they find an old servant and a little boy named Manuel as the only survivors. Manuel is heir to a rich farm or hacienda, and the greedy leader of the Penitents persuades the band to take over the farm and keep the lad ignorant of his rights. When Manuel is grown up the Penitents become suspicious of the inquiries of a priest named Father David in regard to the laugh of your life.

identity of Manuel. They induce the young man to become the victim in the rite of crucifixion. They plan to make it a real torture and not a representation, so that Manuel may die during its course. Dolores is a young girl who is in love with Manuel, but in spite of all her efforts, aided by a clever woman named Senorita Carmelia, she cannot dissuade him from taking part in this ceremony. Just as Manuel is being stretched on the cross soldiers called by Father David rescue the young man.

El Paso, Tex., March 20.—At Fort Bliss comment was withheld on the northward movement of Carranza troops, although it was understood in army circles that the movement was not large.

General George Bell, Jr., commanding the troops here said:

"There isn't a reason on earth for anxiety in El Paso. The military is prepared to meet any emergency."

Rumors were spread today that machine guns were to be trained on points over the Rio Grande river. At Fort Bliss it was denied that any such action was contemplated.

Guns already have been moved to points where they would have greater strategic value if an emergency arose. It is explained, however, that these steps have been taken without any belief that need for guns would arise.

Says Younger Generation Of Cubans In Havana Refer To Uncle Sam As A Very "Fine Uncle"

(The has only to glance at the sugar market to account for the prosperous conditions encountered on all sides in the beautiful and fascinating city of Havana, Cuba," said Mr. George D. Selby, of the Selby Sugar company, Saturday, in discussing his recent visit to Havana, New West and Florida.

"When the sugar market is up, Havana sees real prosperity, and just now that city is passing through one of its best financial periods. It seemed to me that everybody down there had plenty of money and I suppose that this condition will prevail just as long as the sugar market remains in its present inflated condition," Mr. Selby continued.

"I was greatly surprised to find so many people who spoke the English language in Havana. The stores, which more or less have an American atmosphere about them, all have English-speaking clerks. At the Hotel Isla de Cuba," where Mrs. Selby and myself were quartered, has an English-speaking force throughout. Of course, the employees speak Spanish, but they also talk very good English.

"We found that the younger generation of Cubans have a warm spot in their hearts for Uncle Sam. They say 'Uncle Sam is a very 'fine uncle.' But with the older Spanish-speaking people of Cuba, it is different. They do not look upon Uncle Sam with the same affection. They are all proud to be Cubans and talk much about the advantages of Cuba, and especially the growing 'city of Havana, which I was told has a population of almost 100,000. Our land was filled with tourists, but we received the best of treatment, despite its crowded condition. The rooms were splendid and the cooking fine."

"Mr. and Mrs. Anderson accompanied us on a 60 mile automobile ride to Martanzas, the beautiful little city being located east of Havana. We were driven through many very large sugar plantations and saw several immense sugar mills on this trip. We also had the pleasure of exploring caves near Martanzas and inspected the source of water supply that is furnished to Havana."

"We also inspected the famous Moro Castle and its fortifications across the bay from Havana. This feature of our delightful trip was especially pleasurable."

Mr. and Mrs. Selby were fortunate in having the services of Dr. Jose Maria de la Torre, a prominent attorney of Havana, and his niece, Miss Marie Alvarez, a most charming young lady, who has spent much of her time in New York. They furnished Mr. and Mrs. Selby a list of the interesting places of Havana and showed them many little courtesies that were greatly appreciated. Dr. Torre piloted Mr. Selby around to the firms that handle the Selby line of shoes in Havana.

Mr. and Mrs. Selby left here on February 14 and arrived home March 16, after having visited Miami, St. Augustine, Jacksonville and Lakeland Heights, Florida, Key West and Havana.

They sailed from Florida for New York on the steamer General Corp. The weather was fine and they had a most enjoyable journey. On returning on the Olivet, the trip was not so nice. In fact it was very rough. "Of the 223 passengers on board the steamer, 223 were unable to report for meals one day, and we were not among the two who partook of anything to eat," Mr. Selby said. The trip was strenuous all the way."

Round Up Of Undesirables Ordered; Other Police News

The city has become so overrun with hoboes and unemployed strangers that with a view to putting a stop to all begging Mayor H. H. Kaps has ordered a general round-up of such undesirables.

All beggars and vagrants and such persons not making any reasonable effort to secure employment will be included in crews to be formed at the city prison for work on the streets and alleys. Under the new state highway law, which went into effect last September, cities and towns are to insist that fines that are not paid shall be worked out.

A stranger giving the name of O. W. Pemberton, claiming Iron-ton as his home, who made the mistake of begging from a policeman, was fined $25 and ordered to work it out.

John Brewer was the name given by a stranger claiming to be a Cincinnati printer, who, too, was charged with vagrancy. He was fined $5 which was suspended on condition that he secure a job before the day was over or get out of town. Louis Hancock, colored, pleaded guilty to vagrancy but told a hard luck story of having been ejected from the property he occupied because he was unable to pay rent. He was fined $5 which was suspended on condition that he secure a job within the next few days.

Crying Drunk
William Bias, a negro laborer, who came in from one of the railroad construction camps near Sciotoville Saturday evening only to get on a crying drunk, disturbing the vicinity of Thirteenth and Railroad streets, was fined $10.

Almeda Lewis whose home on Tenth street, near Court street, was raided by police early Sunday evening, pleaded for a continuance of her case, saying she wanted to go to the depot to meet the remains of her father-in-law, who died at Akron, O., and it was granted. She and Martha A. Holloway were charged with disorderly conduct. Two West Side young farmers giving the names of Ernest Seymour and Roy Bachford, who were also caught in the raid, were released on bonds of $10 each.

Neighbors had complained about the cursing, foul language and general disorder at the Lewis home. She has four little children and the mayor expects to call the attention of Judge T. C. Beatty, of the juvenile court, to the case.

Cases continued until Monday evening were the following: Frank Henley, colored, charged with making an indecent proposal to Bernice Berkley, also colored; a plain drunk giving the name of Ed Jordan and Fred Boss and Ben Souders, who are charged with fighting at the Pentecostal tabernacle Sunday night, March 12. Boss had been repeatedly ordered to appear but failed to do so and he was brought in Sunday evening. He later succeeded in giving a $10 cash bond for his appearance this evening and was released.

NICE SUM IS RAISED FOR WORTHY FAMILY SEND IN DONATIONS

First Christian Bible School
United Brethren Church	$32.45
Lee I. Smith	17.18
Dr. W. E. Gault	5.00
I. C. B.	1.00
Rev. B. B. Cartwright	1.00
Cash	1.00
Total	$58.73

The above contributions have been made to relieve the desolation of William Reynolds, his good wife and six small children, whose home and all its contents were destroyed by fire last Thursday.

The money raised by the members of the First Christian bible school was turned over to the worthy family by Treasurer George Edwards Sunday afternoon. The other cash donations have been turned over to The Daily Times and as soon as all donations have been sent in the entire sum will be given Mr. Reynolds. In addition to the cash donations many people have given clothing and food. Before long it is hoped to have Mr. Reynolds and family comfortably fixed—in fact in much more comfort than when the fire fiend visited their humble home and destroyed all their earthly possessions.

The street railway boys are raising a nice sum of money and it is hoped they will succeed in securing a purse of not less than $50.00. If it is possible enough money will be raised to assist the worthy people in purchasing a home for their very own. According to those who are intimately acquainted with Mr. Reynolds he is a most worthy man. His family is large, but as best he could he has been supporting them and has never been known to murmur or complain. All the money that he earned went directly for the needs of his family, and he was a much broken-hearted citizen when he realized that everything he owned was consumed by the fire.

However, in his grief he failed to take into consideration that the good people of Portsmouth are ever ready to assist worthiness. The smoke from the dying embers of the Reynolds home had not blown away before steps were taken to assist Mr. Reynolds and his family. The Bauer Broom Co. donated six new brooms and these will be given to Mrs. Reynolds. The Junior Order United American Mechanics are gathering together a large amount of clothing and furniture, and this organization hopes to raise a nice purse, in addition. Quite a quantity of wholesome food has already been given the family and all in all it looks as though the family would be more happily situated than before the fire.

All persons desiring to donate food, clothing or money, will please bring the same to The Times office. They will receive proper credit and the donations turned over to the family.

AGGRESSIVE P. H. S. FIVE BEAT HUNTINGTON TEAM

Displaying real championship form at every stage of the game the Portsmouth high school basketball champions of southeastern Ohio, defeated the Huntington high school quintet in the over-

The up-river aggregation is touted as being one of the best in this part of the country but their work displayed Saturday evening certainly was not of the championship brand. The 200 present were given some idea of how the local team made such a splendid record in the basketball tournaments at Athens and Delaware.

The West Virginia boys showed up well in practice and in the first few minutes of play but as soon as the locals got their signals and team work into working order the Huntington lads were left far in the rear and when the first half ended the score of 24 to 7 in favor of the Red and Blue boys.

Huntington had only made two field goals and three foul goals. Trane and Baesman got to their usual basketball shooting tags and made nine baskets between them.

In the second half the locals took it easy while the up river players doubled their efforts and started the rough playing which netted P. H. S. five foul goals through by Wagner.

The two best plays of the evening were made by Baesman, who totaled eleven field goals. The first one was a long shot from the middle of the floor and at a difficult angle. In the second half he got the ball under Huntington's basket, dribbled it down the floor and made a basket without being touched by a visitor.

Workman, Crawford and Dabney played with P. H. S. last season. Coach Reddy accompanied the Huntington boys and after the battle highly complimented the locals and Referee Kitch and Empire Woods for their good work, not one kick being registered against their decisions. The lineup:

INTERESTING REVIVALS BEING HELD IN THE CITY

Manly Revival Begins

A spirit of earnestness characterized the congregation yesterday morning as the pastor opened up the subject of the tremendous importance of accepting Christ as a personal Saviour, and the responsibility that rests upon every true follower of His to enlist others in His service, in order that all may be saved and come to the acknowledgment of Christ's lordship in their lives.

Three texts were given as a foundation for the sermon. The preacher emphasized the fact that salvation through Christ is not merely a luxury, but the absolute necessity of every life, and that the world will never be brought to Christ until each individual Christian shall assume his responsibility for others.

At the evening service the church was filled to hear the inspiring music rendered by the large choir assisted by the Sunday school orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. Weaver, and to listen to the sermon on "What Is Hell?" The speaker quoted many passages of scripture showing the different figures of speech used in describing the place where those who reject Christ will spend eternity. All these are descriptive of spiritual suffering and anguish which are the natural consequence of such rejection, and the soul that has willfully rejected Christ here, chooses for itself the path which leads forever away from God in an eternal night of hopeless darkness, while the unquenchable fires of remorse and anguish torture the soul in the realization of it all as justly deserved.

Following the service, there was a meeting of the personal workers with their leaders to plan for calling upon all their unsaved friends, and making an earnest personal effort to bring them in to the knowledge of Christ as their Saviour and Friend. All are most cordially invited to attend the meetings which are held every evening, except Saturday, at 7:15 p. m.

Sunday Great Day At Bigelow

Large crowds at both Sunday school and church services marked a great interest in the meetings now in progress. Dr. Chandler spoke with his usual great power and earnestness and in all the services there was a general sympathetic response.

The membership of the church is rallying to the support of the pastor and great results are expected.

Meetings will continue each evening except Saturday. Prayer service at 7 p. m. Regular meetings at 7:30. Every interested person is cordially welcomed.

U. B. Revival

Rev. J. J. Hopper, pastor of the United Brethren church, Sunday evening spoke from the text Daniel 6:20 and 3:17 and when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel and the king spoke and said to Daniel, "O, Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?"

"If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and He will deliver us out of thy hand oh king."

"I take from these two texts 'Our God Is Able' as a subject. And I want to say He is able to save. Some folks hardly think God is able to do some things. Some Christian people think He is a little bit of a God. They think He hasn't quite as much power as the devil. But I know He is able to save. That is based on a 'Thus saith the Lord.' One time I was privileged to preach at a men's mission in Cleveland. After the altar was thrown open a man under the influence of intoxicating liquors came to the altar. We got down and prayed with that man and he prayed for himself. At last God came near unto him and he was saved. God is able to save the worst, the best. Jesus is willing to save us or He would not have come down from the shining courts of heaven to give His life that we might be saved. Jesus cast seven devils out of Mary Magdalene. I doubt if there is a person in Portsmouth tonight who is as bad as she was. I thank God tonight that the one who could cast out devils is able to save us if we will let him. I don't take long for an anxious sinner and anxious Saviour to meet. Jesus is anxious. Are you? 'I can't tell you of the glories of salvation. No man can. It is beyond the power of a mere human being. However I know this, Jesus can save us and then keep us saved. If we get power to sin it is our own fault.'

Many Hear Mr. Maple

The lectures by Evangelist Maple at the church of Christ, Officers and Eleventh streets are growing in interest and hearers are increasing gradually.

The theme discussed have to do with the beginnings of Christianity and the career of the church. In the lecture on "The Birth of the Kingdom," Mr. Maple showed by the writing of such men as Matthew, Henry, Stalker, Howson and many others that the church—the Kingdom of God began in the city of Jerusalem, and on the day of Pentecost A. D. 30.

He quoted many scriptural proof texts to support this fact. Starting from A. D. 30, which Mr. Maple termed the birthday of the church—the fountain of truth—he is tracing the church down through the centuries.

Last evening he spoke at length on "The Early Church" of the first, second and third centuries. Mr. Maple regards the first century as the Apostolic period when super-natural gifts, such as healings, speaking in tongues, baptisms of the Holy Spirit, obtain in the church. The new testament was written from A. D. 52 to 95 after which the supernatural guidance passed away and the new testament began to be the guide as it should be today.

As proof that the supernatural gifts had passed away he read I Cor., 13:8, 9 that love never fails, but prophecies, or tongues they shall fail.

From a specially painted superb chart he pointed out the era of Constantine, how he stopped the persecutions of the Christians and afterwards made Christianity the state religion though permitting the pagans to worship as they pleased.

Lastly he told about the edict of Universality by Constantine thus making Christianity the universal religion of the Roman Empire.

Beginning at this point A. D. 331 Evangelist Maple will lecture tonight on "The Apostasy, Paganistic and Roman," tracing the church down to July 16, 1054, the great schism.

The lectures are historical and are proving a feast to the educationally inclined.

Sciotoville Revival

Three splendid meetings were held at the Sciotoville Baptist church Sunday. A meeting for children held at three o'clock in the afternoon, was largely attended. The Senior choir led by C. W. Hill, and the Junior choir led by Rev. Freeman Chase, furnished the music, which was the feature of the evening service. The meet-

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The First Baptist Sunday school is experiencing the most phenomenal growth of any Sunday school in the city, each Sunday the attendance surpassing that of any previous one. Yesterday there were 569 present, an attendance which speaks well for the unwavering and untiring zeal of the pastor, Rev. B. F. Caudill, and the superintendent, James Yeley, while the teachers and scholars seem to have become infested with the one desire of "pushing out the old walls."

Scores of men and women have come to the First Baptist Sunday school who have not attended a Sunday school for fifteen or twenty years. What the members of this Sunday school have done in this way of bringing scores of new members under the influence of an enthused congregation only shows that every other Sunday school in the city can do the same and bring new Sunday school people into the fellowship of those who study God's word. Not only has the Sunday school grown beyond expectation at the First Baptist church, but every department has shown a marked increase, both in attendance and work accomplished. Rev. B. F. Caudill sacrifices with his people, works with them, and guides them to higher and better ideals of Christian undertaking. Things have so shaped themselves that the second Sunday in April will be set aside as the first pledge day for the new church which will be started the first of June. With the present unrelaxed interest and the willingness of the people of the First Baptist church to do what is best for their Maker, the enthusiasm will eventually find results in a splendid new church edifice, where the present overflowing congregation can be completely taken care of.

The various divisions of the Ladies' Aid Society will hold regular meetings next Thursday afternoon, as follows:

Division One, Mrs. Clyde Woodrum, 1930 Nineteenth street.

Division Two, Mrs. Brumfield, Robinson avenue.

Division Three, Mrs. Graham, 3111 Eleventh street.

Division Four, Mrs. Debo, 1918 Seventh street.

All the ladies of the church are urged to attend these meetings.

The General Aid Society will take the leading part in the Wednesday evening prayer meeting. The study will be taken from Acts 19:22, chapter inclusive. Study the lesson and attend in large numbers at this mid-week prayer service.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

That the members of the First Christian bible school have the right kind of sympathy for William Reynolds and family, who lost their home and household goods by fire the other day, was conclusively demonstrated Sunday when a collection amounting to $32.43 was raised within five minutes. This money was turned over to Treasurer George Edwards and was in turn delivered to Mr. Reynolds Sunday afternoon. Every person who contributed to the fund felt that he had done something worthy and worth while. The money was graciously accepted by Mr. Reynolds and family and will help amazingly when it comes to replenishing his household furniture.

The executive committee of the Local C. E. Society will meet with the president, 831 Eighth street, Tuesday evening, March 21.

The Philatheas are to hold a class meeting Tuesday evening, March 21 at the church. All members urged to be present.

The deacons of the church will meet this evening at the home of H. H. Alderman, 1831 Oakland avenue. A full attendance is desired.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:15. Subject, "What Must I do to be Saved." Leader Rev. C. R. Oakley. Come and help.

The Loyal Men's class will hold a debate at the church Thursday evening of this week. Admission absolutely free and no collection taken. There will be plenty of ings will continue all this week. Tonight Rev. D. A. Cuth, of Washington, C. H., will deliver the evangelistic sermon. A meeting will be held at the church Tuesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

Notes
569 in Sunday school yesterday. Work for 600 next Sunday. The contest between the two men's classes finds the young men 22 ahead in the totals. There were 234 men present in those two classes Sunday. Fine! Keep it up, men.

The New Hope class won out over the Temple Builders yesterday. The contest between the Fishers and Gleaners is very interesting.

Division Four of the Ladies' Aid will hold a Kensington at the home of Mrs. W. H. Barbee, 627 Front street, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Lavdeback will be the assistant hostesses.

Our Beauty Shop (Rest room, second floor) besides doing manicuring, shampooing, and giving scalp treatment to a splendid clientele is now prepared to do "bobbing" of children's hair in the most satisfactory manner and in the latest style. Our customers to this department seem to think that a woman can understand better than a man barber just how she wants Mary's or Johnnie's hair "bobbed" and they can accompany their children and supervise the work without having to go to a barber shop where principally men go.

Children's Play Room

(Third Floor)

We know just how unsatisfactory it is for mothers to have to take care of their children and shop at the same time, so we have established on our third floor a children's play room for the purpose of entertaining the children while mothers shop. We have provided sliding boards and teeter-totters and sand piles and roly-coasters and any youngster will have time of his life right in this play room. Mother can shop for hours if she cares to and be assured her children will be safe, happy and contented. We have provided this play room for our patrons' benefit and we appreciate your using it.

G. O. P. MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT TO FORM A CLUB

On Tuesday evening at seven o'clock the republicans of Portsmouth are requested to attend a general mass meeting at the new republican club headquarters, the Royal Savings and Loan company's building, Gallia street. The meeting has been called by the temporary officers of the club for the purpose of organizing committees in each precinct to solicit members.

The invitations mailed to various republicans in the city read as follows: "There will be a meeting Tuesday night, March 21 at 7:30 o'clock at the Republican Club headquarters on Gallia street, over the Royal Savings and Loan company, for the purpose of beginning the organization of the Scioto County Republican Club. Important political plans will be made at this meeting. Be sure to attend and be there at the beginning. Come and help to organize the biggest and best republican club that southern Ohio has ever seen. Cordially yours, M. J. Caldwell, chairman; J. P. Johnley, secretary; John F. Eckhart, treasurer; Dr. P. W. Young and Charles E. Hard."

At the meeting Tuesday evening every precinct worker in the city is especially urged to attend. It is the object of the temporary officers to organize each precinct in the city. These organizations will then solicit new members. But all republicans in the city are urged to attend.

"We expect to make the Scioto County Republican Club one of the biggest and best organizations of its kind in southern Ohio. We expect to hold a smoker within the next few weeks at which one or more well known speakers will be present. We expect to have smokers and debates frequently and we will organize a glee club and many other clubs as we progress," said Mr. Hard Monday.

"Later on," continued Mr. Hard, "we will form a marching club and will have precinct clubs affiliated from every section of the county. We expect to make the club a permanent affair and one that everyone will be proud of."

Who gets the profits on your life insurance? You or the stockholders?

Sam M. Johnson

Phone 141 Johnson Block, 509 2d St.

The temporary officers will have charge of the organization of the club after which they will resign in favor of the permanent officers who will be selected by ballot. A plan has been conceived whereby the members of the club shall elect their officers after the manner employed by the famous Blaine club, Cincinnati. Two tickets are prepared, one known as the "Reds" and the other the "Blues." Regular campaigns are held by the friends of the opposing parties and one or the other ticket is elected. No scratching is allowed.

The new republican club has been hailed with considerable enthusiasm since its initial appearance on the trip to Jackson. Every member of the Jackson excursion declared that they would become members when organization was effected.

It is planned to have a club of one thousand members in the city of Portsmouth alone. The county precincts are expected to raise the roster several hundred.

The club will begin its activities at once and will continue them the year around.

WILL WIND UP AFFAIRS OF BRODT SHOE COMP'Y

NEW BOSTON

An application to dispose of the real estate and remaining personal property of the defunct Brodt Shoe Company was filed by C. M. Weyand, receiver, Monday, in common pleas court through Attorney Will J. Meyer.

The document avers that there is about $2,500 worth of machinery; $974.43 of old accounts and $12,400 of real estate to be sold. It is stated that the $974.43 due on seven old accounts is rather uncertain as six of the debtors are now in the process of bankruptcy.

The receiver states that he is desirous of closing the receivership at an early date and now has about $700 on hand. In all, the receivership has paid a dividend of 65 per cent. The final dividend will be paid after disposing of the above mentioned property. Judge Thomas heard the application Monday and allowed the same, believing it to be to the best interests of the creditors.

LOCAL WOMAN'S RELATIVE IS KILLED BY A TRAIN

Mrs. J. J. Connors of 1520 Grandview avenue, received a message late Saturday telling her of the tragic death of her brother-in-law, Adam Eppensteiner of Hamilton. He was killed Friday morning when struck by a train. Mrs. Connors is confined to her home with illness and is unable to attend the funeral. Mr. Connors is a well known N. & W. engineer and unable to attend the funeral on account of his wife's illness. Concerning the accident the Hamilton Evening Journal said:

"At 6:30 o'clock Friday morning the southbound C. H. & D. work train hit a man going north on the new river bridge with his lunch basket and hurled him to the banks of the river some distance below."

"The man's identity was for some time in doubt and was only established by William Schramm, who recognized the body as that of Adam Eppensteiner, formerly of Cokesooto and vicinity."

"Eppensteiner had worked in the coke works until a month ago, when he secured work as a laborer in the machine shop of the Hoover, Owens & Reuschler Co., on the night shift."

"This morning he left as usual with his lunch basket and was hit and killed by the work train while going home."

"Eppensteiner is survived by the widow and two sons and two daughters, one of his sons being the well known pugilist."

"Eppensteiner's legs were both broken and he sustained four fractures of his skull which caused his death a short time after the accident."

Sciotoville District Votes For $25,000 School House

By the handsome majority of 101 votes, the $25,000 bond issue voted upon in the Sciotoville school district carried Saturday. The district includes the Sciotoville school, Hartler, Wait and the Star Yards school.

One hundred and seventy-nine votes were cast, the vote being extremely light. One hundred and forty votes were recorded for the bond issue and only 39 were recorded against it.

The fact that the bond issue carried means that Sciotoville will receive a modern school building, as this sum will be used exclusively in the erection of a modern temple of learning. The school board of Sciotoville is composed of Charles Whitt, Beacher Holstead, Albert Fewkes, Arthur Turner and Carl Etterling. Mr. Whitt is president and Mr. Holstead is secretary.

It was stated Monday that no time will be lost in having actual work started on the new building.

Bishop Does Not Fear Trouble With Mexico

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, was favorable toward the United States as long as the sovereignty of Mexico was preserved. The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of the Methodist Episcopal church, who arrived today with three missionaries from Mexico, declared that so long as the United States respects the sovereignty of Mexico, diplomatic relations would not be endangered. He said missionaries were not being withdrawn, except because of ill health. Mexico, he said, was ravaged by typhus, famine and poverty, and the hospitals are crowded in Mexico City."

A Great National Public Utility

That concerns all merchants and all people

THE original Cash Register rang a bell, indicated and recorded the amount of the purchase. It benefited the merchant only.

In a third of a century this old model has developed into a Cash Register that directly benefits every man, woman and child who spends money in a store.

This new Cash Register equally concerns every merchant and clerk, every banker and wholesaler in this land.

It furnishes every customer with a receipt or sales slip.

It prints on this the amount paid or charged.

On this is also printed the date of the sale and who made it.

It forces a duplicate, printed record for the merchant.

It prevents disputes over charges and bills paid.

It saves shoppers' time.

It gives the merchant all his profits. It gives him more money for his family.

It promotes more and quicker sales.

It protects each clerk against making errors and against the mistakes of others.

It rewards the diligent clerk by telling his employer which one makes the largest number of sales and which one gets the greatest amount of business.

It assures the banker additional security for the money he loans the merchant.

It gives the wholesaler additional assurance that the merchant will have money to pay his bills.

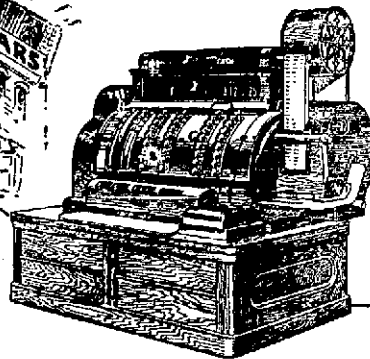

It furnishes the banker and the wholesaler mechanical evidence that the merchant's statement of his business is correct.

It is a business necessity.

AMERICANS DIE AT THE HANDS OF OUTLAW VILLA

HIDING PLACE OF BANDIT LOCATED

With the American Army, Mar. 20.—(Via wireless to Columbus).—After marching more than 110 miles into Mexico in 42 hours, record marching time, which would indicate a speed of about 33 miles a day, the American punitive expedition today received information apparently locating Pancho Villa, the object of their chase. Disposition of the troops has commenced for the task of hunting him down. Meanwhile, Villa was reported continuing his outrages upon Americans.

The expedition reached (name deleted by censor). They were informed that the Mexican leader passed through this place only a few days ago. The latest information of Villa's present whereabouts placed him on the ranch of Candelario Hernandez, one of the sub-chiefs with him on the raid against Columbus.

General John J. Pershing personally led the flying cavalry column in the 110 mile dash. Every man in his command was mounted. They pressed through a section of Mexico where water was scarce. For such a large body of men the speed maintained was remarkable, and the good condition in which they came through was inspiring.

Only a few cavalry horses and pack mules were lost, the victims of a hard ridden trail. The men reached the camp, tired and hungry, but otherwise in good shape fit and eager for the pursuit of Villa to begin in earnest. Here they were met with reports that Villa had raided the American colonies in the vicinity of his mountain retreats and that he had killed residents of these colonies.

Columbus, N. M., March 20.—Increased activity on the part of the troop stationed here and the arrival during the night of troop and supply trains indicated today that additional forces, shortly will be on their way to augment the punitive American expeditionary forces now in the field in northern Mexico.

In addition to the troops which detained here, a large part of which were cavalry, many passed through, bound apparently for some point westward along the border. Soldiers were kept busy throughout the day preparing combat and hospital trains and carrying equipment to the field force.

One of the problems which the commissary department at the military base has been striving desperately to solve is that of supplies with which to feed the troops. For several years the internal strife in Mexico practically has stifled the agricultural interests of that district in Mexico through which the American troops are believed to be passing. As a result neither food for the men, nor forage for the animals can be obtained in Mexico and must be transported from here.

The large motor trucks, the equipping of which has occupied military and civilian mechanics for two days, were ready for service today, their drivers asserting that they were awaiting orders to move south.

Indications that a number of detachments on station here expect to move shortly were the increased amount of outgoing mail handled by the local postoffice and the large demands on the part of the soldiers for baths.

The only bath tub in the town, for which a charge of thirty-five cents a half hour is maintained, was kept busy all day yesterday and far into the night and the proprietor asserted that he had reservations enough to keep his tub busy all day today.

Major W. R. Sample, commandant at the military field base here was kept in communication with General Pershing's forces by means of the army wireless, but clinging tenaciously to the censorship ruling, he refused to make public any information. Instructions have been issued that not only communications sent out by newspaper correspondents must be censored, but also that those of officers and men of the army and of residents of Columbus must be passed upon. All incoming telegrams also are read and approved by the military censor before delivery.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Information that the American expeditionary forces in Mexico have established contact with Francisco Villa and his band of outlaws was anxiously awaited today by the war department.

Latest unofficial advices received here said that Villa and his bandits, fleeing before the American advance, had reached his own country in the Guerrero district, where army officers say he may elude his pursuers indefinitely. They believe, however, that if Villa makes a stand, the campaign will be brought to a quick conclusion. But if he abandons his men, officers say he could find a retreat in the nearby mountains, or in the gulf of a penon go so far south as to make his apprehension impossible.

Elaborate scouting plans, it is said, have been made by General Pershing to meet such a situation. As a last resort, trusted Mexican scouts who know the retreat of the bandits, would be employed to run Villa down.

Instructions have been forwarded to forces in Mexico not to occupy any Mexican town with the possibility of stirring up resentment among the natives.

DISEASES THAT SHOW IN YOUR FACE

It matters not how little confidence we may have in our ability as mind readers, all of us by life long practice are face-readers. A considerable part of our attitude toward our fellows is determined by what we see in their faces. Most of us have become surprisingly accurate face-readers in regard to moral and emotional tendencies. And we also read just as well when the face indicates either internal or external disease. The tense, drawn features indicating continued pain from some internal ailment, or the breaking out of one of the many skin diseases, which speak only too plainly for themselves, because unjust, if not skin diseases show on the face sooner or later. Impure, impoverished or impaired blood are the prime causes of disease. Therefore the blood should be nourished, as well as purified.

One of the striking changes in modern medicine is the way the use of iron for blood troubles has decreased. It was discovered that iron was not a blood food. When people are suffering from poisoned blood, or impure or impoverished blood they need a remedy that will not only drive out the impurities but that will nourish the blood at the same time—S. S. S., the standard blood purifier for 50 years, is purely vegetable and will absolutely drive out the impurities and nourish and tone up the entire system, both physical and nervous. Purify and nourish your blood by taking S. S. S. If you need special advice write Medical Department, Room 12 Swift Sordic Company, Atlanta, Ga.

London, March 20.—A strong French column with light artillery from the Saloniki entrenched camp has attacked and occupied the villages of Macikovo, Karadagh and Kosuna, which had been entered by Teuton and Bulgarian forces, according to a Reuter despatch from Saloniki, dated March 18. The French had only a few casualties. Owing to the encroachments of the Teutonic allies into Greek territory and the consequent advice of the French, the neutral frontier zone which had been agreed upon between the Greek and Bulgarian governments is now eliminated.

WEAK FROM GRIPPE

Home Missionary Tells How She Restored Her Strength

"I am a Home Missionary, was weak and run-down after a hard spell of grippe. I had headaches, indigestion and pains in my chest, and was tired all the time. A friend asked me to try Vinol and the result is I am free from those troubles and I feel well and strong and able to go to work again," Mrs. Mattie Johnson, Topeka, Pa.

The reason Vinol was so successful in building up Mrs. Johnson's health is because it is a constitutional remedy which contains peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the nourishing properties of beef peptone and the healing medicinal extractives of fresh, healthy cod's livers, all combined in a delicious native tonic wine, without oil.

We wish every person in Portsmouth, who is suffering from a weakened, run-down, devitalized condition, would try our Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit them. Frank Amann, druggist, Portsmouth, O.

MAYOR IS DROWNED

Gallipolis, O., March 20.—Walter H. Crossin, mayor of Ft. Pleasant, W. Va., and a former state senator in West Virginia, was drowned in the Ohio river, near here, Saturday night. The body was recovered Sunday.

Cassin, accompanied by J. O. Fowler, a building contractor of Ft. Pleasant, and Clinton Pioneer of this city, went for a motor-boat ride, but when they reached this point the engine became disabled. According to the police, Fowler left the boat to seek tools with which to repair the engine, but when he returned found Cassin and Pioneer both missing.

He notified the police and after a search, which lasted all night, Cassin's body was found in the river. There were no marks of violence on the body and the police believe that the former senator slipped on the icy side of the boat and fell into the water.

No sign of Pioneer has been found, but, according to the police, he was seen to leave the boat, and opinion is expressed that he became frightened when he was unable to rescue Cassin and fled.

ANNA CASE, THE MIRACLE GIRL

In New York there are two phrases always used in conjunction in describing Anna Case: "A wonderful voice and a raving beauty." She is of surpassing physical charm—and she has a voice, fresh and silvery; a soft caress, and yet youth's virileness in every note.

HEAR ANNA CASE

on concert tour or at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss no chance to hear this miraculously endowed American girl. The story of her life reads like a romance. She is the miracle girl of music.

It was Anna Case who first sang in comparison with Edison's Re-Creation of her voice to test his new art—to determine whether the Wizard had in fact achieved his ambition to Re-Creation the human voice so perfectly that a singer's performance could not be distinguished from his record of it. Anna Case was the first to prove this to the world. Today over one hundred thousand of the most critical and cultured music lovers in America have heard similar tests. The musical critics of more than one hundred of the leading newspapers in this country, have confessed that their trained ears cannot distinguish, BY ACTUAL AND DIRECT COMPARISON, an artist's performance from Edison's Re-Creation of it. Booklet of critiques will be furnished on application.

Ask for The NEW EDISON

Forget the various trade names of the various talking machines. All talking machines are now like last year's fashions. Edison has developed a new art in music. It can be heard only in his new invention, the New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph. If anyone claims to have a talking machine that equals the New Edison, ask them if it has ever been publicly tested in direct comparison with living artists, and if so, where—AND ASK THEM ALSO TO LET YOU SEE WHAT THE NEWSPAPERS HAD TO SAY ABOUT THE TEST.

LUCASVILLE FAIR GROUNDS TO HAVE HALF MILE COURSE; PLAN BIG FAIR

The Scioto County Agricultural Society will hold their annual fair at the Lucasville Fair grounds August 15, 16, 17 and 18th this year, according to an announcement made at the regular meeting of the directors of the association, held Monday at the court house. Plans for a greater agricultural display, a bigger premium list, better free attractions and some faster races were made.

It was decided at this meeting to increase the size of the race track from a one-third of a mile to a half mile track. A committee was appointed, consisting of the following directors: W. A. McGeorge, Lafayette Taylor, Dr. J. N. Thomas, Maurice J. Caldwell, J. W. Spriggs to prepare plans for the new half mile course. This committee was also given power to enter into contract for the construction of the same.

The enlargement of the present race track will mean that every building on the grounds, except the Art Hall, will have to be torn down and rebuilt on a new site. Because of this contingency the directors will make several changes both in the size and design of their buildings.

The foregoing committee will complete the annual premium list Monday afternoon and will place it in the hands of the printers at once.

The secretary was instructed to obtain a copy of the rules and regulations governing the Ohio State Boys' Corn Growing contest. An active campaign to promote this feature among the boys of the county will be waged by the directors this year.

The directors of the board are enthusiastic over the prospects for the 1916 fair. They are planning to beautify the grounds, repair the present water system, install two gates on the east side of the grounds for vehicles, erect many new buildings to replace the old ones which will be torn down to make room for the new race course and to have a string of race horses and blooded stock that will make the fair grounds generally known

MORE TROOPS GOING TO MEXICO AMERICANS DIE AT THE HANDS OF OUTLAW VILLA

SUPPLY PROBLEM CAUSES OFFICERS MUCH WORRYING

Columbus, N. M., March 20.—Increased activity on the part of the troops stationed here and the arrival during the night of troop and supply trains indicated today that additional forces, shortly will be on their way to augment the punitive American expeditionary forces now in the field in northern Mexico.

In addition to the troops which detained here, a large part of which were cavalry, many passed through, bound apparently for some point westward along the border. Soldiers were kept busy throughout the day preparing combat and hospital trains and carrying equipment to the field force.

One of the problems which the commissary department at the military base has been striving desperately to solve is that of supplies with which to feed the troops. For several years the internal strife in Mexico practically has stifled the agricultural interests of that district in Mexico through which the American troops are believed to be passing. As a result neither food for the men, nor forage for the animals can be obtained in Mexico and must be transported from here.

The large motor trucks, the equipment of which has occupied military and civilian mechanics for two days, were ready for service today, their drivers asserting that they were awaiting orders to move south.

Indications that a number of detachments on station here expect to move shortly were the increased amount of outgoing mail handled by the local postoffice and the large demands on the part of the soldiers for baths.

The only bath tub in the town, for which a charge of thirty-five cents a half hour is maintained, was kept busy all day yesterday and far into the night and the proprietor asserted that he had reservations enough to keep his tub busy all day today.

Major W. R. Sample, commander at the military field base here was kept in communication with General Pershing's forces by means of the army wireless, but clinging tenaciously to the censorship ruling, he refused to make public any information. Instructions have been issued that not only communications sent out by newspaper correspondents must be censored, but also that those of officers and men of the army and of residents of Columbus must be passed upon. All incoming telegrams also are read and approved by the military censor before delivery.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Information that the American expeditionary forces in Mexico have established contact with Francisco Villa and his band of outlaws was anxiously awaited today by the war department.

Latest unofficial advices received here said that Villa and his bandits, fleeing before the American advance, had reached his own country in the Guerrero district, where army officers say he may elude his pursuers indefinitely. They believe, however, that if Villa makes a stand, the campaign will be brought to a quick conclusion. But if he abandons his men, officers say he could find a retreat in the nearby mountains, or in the garb of a peon go so far south as to make his apprehension impossible.

Elaborate scouting plans, it is said, have been made by General Pershing to meet such a situation. As a last resort, trusted Mexican scouts who know the retreat of the bandits, would be employed to run Villa down.

Instructions have gone forward to forces in Mexico not to occupy any Mexican town with the possibility of stirring up resentment among the natives.

65 ALLIED AIR SHIPS RAIDED A BELGIAN TOWN

(BULLETIN)
London, March 20.—Sixty-five allied aeroplanes today bombarded the Belgian coast town of Zeebrugge. All returned.

The following official statement was made:

"In the early hours of this morning a combined force of approximately fifty British, French and Belgian aeroplanes and seaplanes, accompanied by fifteen fighting machines, left and attacked the German seaplane station at Zeebrugge and the aerodrome at Houthulst near Zeebrugge.

"Considerable damage appears to have been done. The machines on the average carried 200 pounds of bombs. All the machines returned safely.

"One Belgian officer is reported seriously wounded."

Zeebrugge is on the Belgian coast, twelve miles northeast of Ostend. Since the German occupation, this port has become of considerable importance, particularly as a German submarine base. It is one of the principal points from which submarine operations in the North Sea are directed.

Washington, March 20.—General Carranza has formally protested against American troops occupying Casas Grandes in their pursuit of Villa and the American government has replied that the troops have been ordered specifically not to occupy Casas Grandes or any other towns or cities in Mexico.

HIDING PLACE OF BANDIT LOCATED

With the American Army, Mar. 20.—(Via wireless to Columbia).—After marching more than 110 miles into Mexico in 42 hours, record marching time, which would indicate a speed of about 33 miles a day, the American punitive expedition today received information apparently locating Pancho Villa, the object of their chase. Disposition of the troops has commenced for the task of hunting him down. Meanwhile, Villa was reported continuing his outrages upon Americans.

The expedition reached (name deleted by censor). They were informed that the Mexican leader passed through this place only a few days ago. The latest information of Villa's present whereabouts placed him on the ranch of Candelario Hernandez, one of the sub-chiefs with him on the raid against Columbus.

General John J. Pershing personally led the flying cavalry column in the 110 mile dash. Every man in his command was mounted. They pressed through a section of Mexico where water was scarce. For such a large body of men the speed maintained was remarkable, and the good condition in which they came through was inspiring.

Only a few cavalry horses and pack mules were lost, the victims of a hard ridden trail. The men reached the camp, tired and hungry, but otherwise in good shape fit and eager for the pursuit of Villa to begin in earnest. Here they were met with reports that Villa had raided the American colonies in the vicinity of his mountain retreats and that he had killed residents of these colonies.

LAST WEEK OF TRAINING SEES FIGHTERS IN SHAPE

New York, March 20.—Jess Willard and Frank Moran began today their last week of training in preparation for their fight next Saturday night. Both fighters have reached the stage when it soon will be necessary to slow up in their training and rest.

Willard's plans call for two days of hard work this week after which he intends to discontinue all strenuous work and take only sufficient exercise to prevent him from going stale. To day and tomorrow he plans to indulge in at least fourteen rounds of boxing. Moran, who is at a keener edge than Willard, took a day off from his training program today, but will resume boxing tomorrow.

The problems of the trainers of both fighters is to give them just enough work to prevent them from getting too fine. Moran in particular has to be closely watched for he seems to prefer work to idleness. His plans for the week call for a gradual decrease of hard work. He was in good condition even before he started training for his bout with Willard owing to his preparation for the two fights with Jim Coffey.

Experts say that Willard is not quite so lithe as when he left here to fight Johnson, but at that he is a splendid looking athlete. The champion is satisfied with the progress he has made, and declares that he feels in first-class trim.

AGGRESSIVE P. H. S. FIVE BEAT HUNTINGTON TEAM

Displaying real championship form at every stage of the game the Portsmouth high school basketball champions of southeastern Ohio defeated the Huntington high school quintet in the local gym Saturday evening by the overwhelming score of 42 to 25, the worst defeat handed Huntington in any line of sport by a Peerless City high school team.

The up-river aggregation is touted as being one of the best in this part of the country but their work displayed Saturday evening certainly was not of the championship brand. The 200 present were given some idea of how the local team made such a splendid record in the basketball tournaments at Athens and Delaware.

The West Virginia boys showed up well in practice and in the first few minutes of play but as soon as the local boys got their signals and team work into working order the Huntington lads were left for in the rear and when the first half ended the score of 21 to 7 in favor of the local and blue boys.

Huntington had only made two field goals and three foul goals. Trone and Baesman got in their usual basketball shooting rags and made nine baskets between them.

In the second half the locals took it easy while the up-river players doubled their efforts and started the rough playing which netted P. H. S. five foul goals thrown by Wagner.

The two best plays of the evening were made by Baesman, who totted eleven field goals. The first one was a long shot from the outside of the floor and at a difficult angle. In the second half he got the ball under Huntington's basket, dribbled it down the floor and made a basket without being touched by a visitor.

Workman, Crawford and Dahney played with H. H. S. last season. Caren Kelly accompanied the Huntington lads and after the battle highly complimentary of the locals and Referee Jitch and Umpire Woods for their good work, not only being registered against their decisions. The lineups:

P. H. S. H. H. S.
Trone.....RF..... Workman
Wagner.....LF..... Woods
Baesman.....C..... Risher, Dahney
Brandel.....RG..... Ensign
Noller, Shumway.....LG..... Crawford
Field Goals—Baesman 11; Trone 1; Wagner 1; Risher 3; Risher 3; Workman 2; Crawford 1; Dahney 1.
Foul Goals—Wagner 3; Workman 1; Ensign 1.
Time of Halves—20 minutes.

There are 256 more clubs left to bid for the favored position now held by the Richs of Columbus with 2813, some of the most famous clubs of the country still having their games ahead of them.

The Derrys won their title a year ago at Peoria with 2807 under the name of the Barry Kettlers, and they look even stronger this year than last. Two powerful teams from the Marion Club of Indianapolis will roll alongside of the Barrys while Louisville, Buffalo and Cleveland all have good bidders for a big count.

BASKETBALL HONORS WON BY STIVERS HIGH

The unexpected happened Saturday when the Stivers High basketball team carried off all honors in the finals at the state interscholastic basketball tournament by defeating East Liverpool by a score of 45 to 34.

The Stivers High team, according to the local high school players did not appear to be "very much" by the form they displayed against the other weak teams in the preliminary games. The other surprise was the defeat of Marietta by Stivers in the semi-finals.

Saturday morning Stivers High and Marietta met for the championship of the southern part of the state, the former winning by a score of 30 to 16.

Mt. Vernon and East Liverpool played for the championship of the northern half of the state, the latter winning by the score of 34 to 23, the game being the most bitterly fought contest during the tournament.

A WEE BIT OF SENSE

Cincinnati has risen immeasurably in our estimation since last Friday, which sure isn't an unlucky day for her, seeing what has happened.

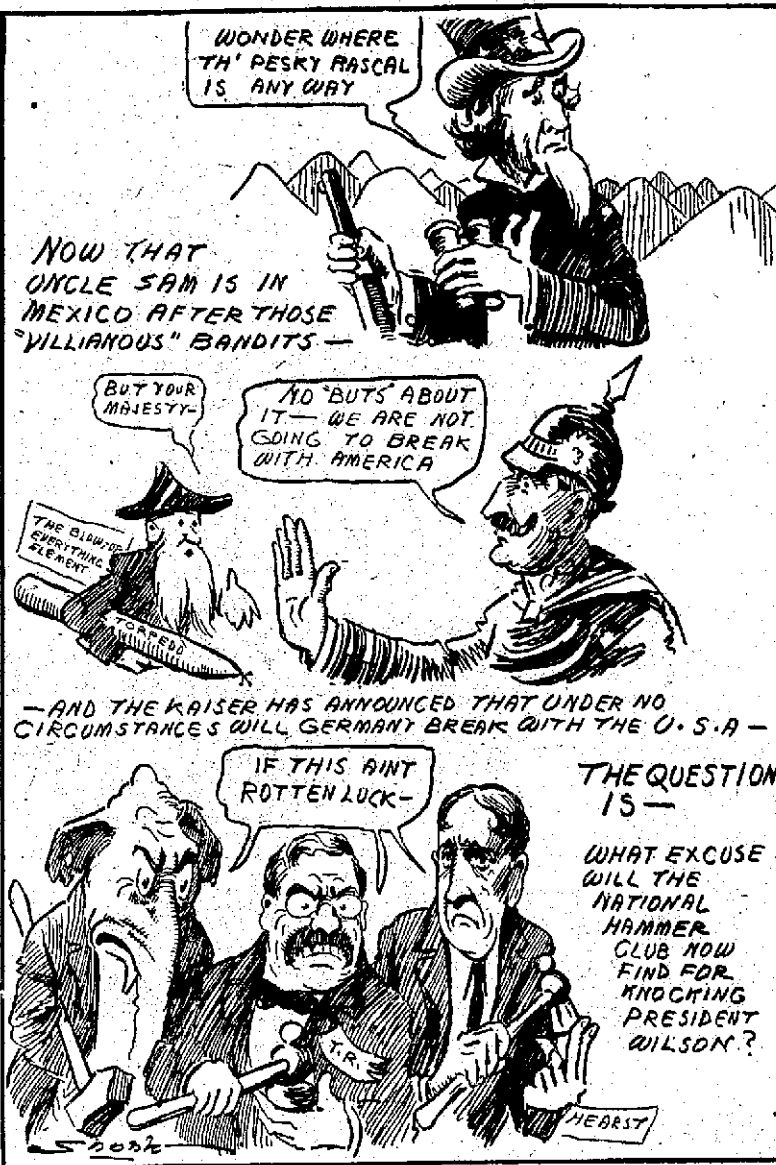

The cause of her exaltation lies in the fact that she has a judge, named Spiegel, as we recall it, who has common horse sense and applies it to the measure of his judgment. This rather rare talent he displayed on the day aforementioned, when certain alleged offenders were before him, charged with the heinous crime of advertising that they could extract a tooth painlessly and make a bridge for a specified sum. Didn't know that was a crime? Well, it is and a deep doubled-dyed one, if some of the fool statutes passed by the last legislature—but shouldn't we move that adjective up several notches and place it directly before legislature—should be permitted to stand. For 'tis these which say that no dentist shall advertise, that is do advertising he has to pay for. The other kind is all right and he can even go so far as to put the D. D. S. on his wife's visiting cards and be in perfectly good form so far as "the ethics" are concerned. He can not, however, use the forms of publicity proscribed, though they be ever so decent and proper. That is what the law says, but the brave and sapient Cincinnati jurist says it is ridiculous, absurd and preposterous, and what is more to the purpose, an attempted encroachment upon a liberty and right that every individual has, to decently and honestly exploit his attainments and efficiency, therefore it is no law at all, being unconstitutional. So he wipes it off the statute book and every newspaper, the best means of advertising, says he is a most knowledgeable and just judge. Sure, it is anyway, we have too much of this chasing up to the legislature to get it to keep somebody from doing something that somebody else considers all wrong just because he doesn't wish to pay for the same thing himself.

Editor Wynn, of the Picketon Republican, is a hopeful sort of customer, but right now he is on a lonesome sort of trail. According to his own statement "the kind of a man the Republican admires is the kind of a man that doesn't get sore at you every time you disagree with him on some public matter." Then, after explaining that the Republican is above petty jealousies, Brother Wynn observes "this publication wants to be a friend to everybody." Well, Charlie, there isn't any such animal as the kind you first indicated. It is the inherent and inalienable right of every man to have an opinion on public matters and he has assumed the right to consider all who disagree as mulishly stubborn ignoramuses. As for being a "friend to everybody" that is a dream that may haunt editorial sanctums, but it is only a dream. The newspaper that does not make an enemy once in awhile is generally colorless and weak, without conscience or character. Nothing was ever accomplished in this world without tramping on somebody's toes. It is better to try and be just and fair, while sticking up for the right and for one's own opinions. You may make enemies but they will respect you and your paper.

We have come to the conclusion that one of the main reasons for the decline of river traffic lies in the lack of business judgment and energy upon the part of the river men themselves. They have not kept pace with the times, they have not been as alert as the men in competing lines. Instead of working to keep up to standard they have sat down and growled at the world because their business was slipping away. And some of these days we are going to point out some of the drawbacks to river trade as they appeared to an unprejudiced observer, who is however, deeply interested in our rivers and those who do business upon them.

There's a lot of good in the world and there's a lot of unobtrusive charity being done by people who give for the love of giving, for the good that will result. For instance Saturday night a gentleman quietly came up to our home, handed us Five Dollars and asked if we would see that it got to that family of eight that was burned out the other night. "I just want to help them a little and I do not want any publicity in the matter," he said.

OF COURSE THEY'LL CONTINUE TO KICK

GETTING ACQUAINTED

Two citizens of this place who have known each other slightly for many years have recently gotten better acquainted. Each knew who the other was, but neither cared very much about the other. Their paths lay in opposite directions, and they had no occasion to come into contact with each other, and while there was no especial enmity the one against the other, neither was favorably impressed with the other.

But lately they have been thrown together a good deal. They have met frequently and had many discussions. They now find that they like each other, and they actually seek each other's society, preferring it to the society of those whom they have known longer—and better.

All of which is to call attention to the fact that there are many people in the world whom we misjudge, because we do not know them more intimately. There are good fellows running loose, and getting along without us, but who, if we knew them better, would be of tremendous help to us. For you can not know a man, and like him, without finding him worth something to you.

Neither can you judge a man correctly until you come into the most intimate contact with him. Our prejudices are easily aroused. We sometimes meet a man and make up our minds that he is not to our liking simply by the way he parts his hair, or because of the color of the necktie that he wears. In fact, we nearly always make up our minds about a fellow as soon as we see him, sometimes before we see him, and it requires time to break down the prejudice.—Columbus Dispatch.

Catlettsburg high school young men disgraced themselves last week by unmanly and boorish treatment of a visiting basketball team from Gallipolis. The visitors were locked in a hall, lights turned out and they were compelled to descend to the street via the ladder route. Looks like some old fashioned spanking across mother's knee was needed up at Catlettsburg.

We suppose that a certain distinguished journalist whose habitat is at Gallipolis has duly repented the eulogy he passed upon wind and snow and sleet and rain alias winter and will be bursting forth into song one of these days over the glories of the Springtime and the near approach of the good old summer time.

Anyway, it does not matter how much some may sneer, you must admit that there is a neatness and nobleness about those white and yellow high shoes the girls are wearing that is most attractive to the eye—that is if you take a peep as you go about the street and of course every one does that.

Tastes differ. Colonel Sibley does not like Mutt and Jeff anymore. He thinks the humor is being stretched out too much. With us it is different. It seems to us that Mutt and Jeff have come back, that the original flavor is there in huge quantities.

There was that in the atmosphere Sunday that brought home to us all the fact that Mistress Spring was at the doorstep.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, March 20—Charlie Edson, the Man from Arkansas, is back on Broadway from Half Moon Mountain writing pieces for the Morning Telegraph. About six months ago he suddenly disappeared and the next heard of him was that he was writing the Great American Hick Novel, in the hills where he was born.

A breath from the West is Charles. He sees Broadway from the same angle that the crowd around the general store stove back home sees a dog fight on the main street. He has a natural writing ability and combined with it a self education that puts him in the class of the best writers in town.

He just poked around in the odd nooks and corners of Gotham and turns up stories that city editors never knew were there. The other day he was browsing in Washington Square and found a serious little group of thinkers who were reading from the anthology of verse libre. Here is one of the poems that he heard:

My elbow knuckles
And the hollows under my knee
Are curious places.
My heels are melancholy
Dozing and drugging all day
My toes have turned sullen
From never being amused.

Chez Fysher has flashed on the Broadway horizon and then disappeared as silently as it came. It was a restaurant that was just a little too steep in its prices and there are a few gosses that will make New Yorkers buck—but very few.

The motive of the restaurant was to establish in New York a replica of the unique cafe chateaux which M'Sieur Fyshers used to conduct in Paris and it would probably have met with success if M'Sieur Fysher had not imagined that New Yorkers felt a rather exalted pride in being robbed.

A guest never knew whether the "couver" price was to be one dollar or two dollars. The "couver" was the right to sit at a table. They used to regulate it at the Chez according to the amount needed to pay the hired hands. Finally it was discovered that you could spend a week in the Paris Chez for about the same amount that you spend in the New York place in 15 minutes.

There being no one left to soak—M'Sieur Fysher quit Chez-zing.

It was a distinguished gathering at the Century theatre last week to honor William Winter, the veteran dramatic critic. He is now in his eightieth year and held down the dramatic editorship on a New York newspaper for 44 years.

He sat in a stage box—mute with surprise at the wonderful tributes that were paid him. There is a quotation from "As You Like It" which fits him perfectly. It reads: "A lusty Winter, frosty but kindly."

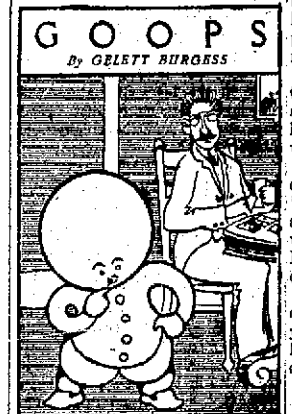

The hotel men have had their little joke, Copeland Townsend, who has managed two big New York hotels, purchased a big high-powered limousine last week. He was taking his first drive through Central Park when a policeman stopped him and asked to see his license. Mr. Townsend had to remove his fur overcoat and gloves to get it—in the biting cold.

The officer inspected it gravely for a long time and then put it under a magnifying glass. All the time Mr. Townsend was shivering in the car. The officer finally handed it back saying: "It is a pretty thing." He had been rehearsed by the hotel men.

THE CHANCE

In this spring a young man's fancy
Will turn not to thoughts of love,
To the blooming of the roses,
To the cooing turtle dove,
But to visions of the trenches,
And to thoughts of grimiest hate,
To the singing of the bullets,
And their deadly song of fate.

In this spring the young men marching
Turn away from home and maid,
With no time to murmur softly,
What in other spring they said,
For their country, in a death grip,
Cries upon them for her life,
And their forces in stern earnest
Gather for the final strife.

Not a spring, this, is of roses,
Nor of love and birds and flowers;
For most sinister its portents,
Dark and bloody are its hours,
With no time for tender passions,
Trampled 't its early bloom,
And the young man's fancy shudders
As life seems once ghastly tomb.

A Gentle Hint

Mike Murphy, a contractor, became rich and tony, and got a handsome automobile. Mrs. Murphy invited Mrs. Clancy for a ride in it. "Whatever you do," Mrs. Clancy, "don't talk to the shoffer at all; not a word or a whisper to him, for it takes his mind off what he is doing." So they started out at a rapid clip. The chauffeur went zip round the corner and zip round another corner, sometimes the car would be on two wheels. Finally Mrs. Clancy touched the chauffeur on the back and said: "Mr. Shoffer, I beg your pardon. I was told not to speak to you at all, but let me tell you that Mrs. Murphy hasn't been in the car for the last ten minutes."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD TO LEASE THE N. & W.?

MERGER REPORT IS HEARD IN THE EAST; IS DENIED IN ROANOKE

Philadelphia, Pa., March 20.—(Associated Press.)—Pennsylvania railroad will lease the Norfolk and Western railway. Officials at the main offices of the Pennsylvania, in this city, refused to confirm or deny the report.

One ventured this remark: "Wait until the annual meeting of the Norfolk and Western directors is held, next week."

The Pennsylvania railroad system, according to reports in circulation, is negotiating to lease the Norfolk and Western railway, a 2,000-mile system, thus merging the Norfolk and Western with the Pennsylvania.

Financial Plans

The Pennsylvania railroad owns $33,278,400 par value of Norfolk and Western common stock and $4,230,000 par value of the Norfolk and Western adjustment preferred 4 per cent stock. The common stock, which has just had a rapid rise on the New York stock exchange, is selling in the neighborhood of $121 a share, and the Pennsylvania railroad's holdings in the common stock alone have a present market value, therefore, of about $47,000,000. All of this common and preferred stock, according to reports, will be sold to the Pennsylvania company, which operates and holds the lines west of Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania company using the proceeds of its recent sale of Cambria Steel and Pennsylvania Steel stocks.

The Pennsylvania company already owns $5,000,000 par value of the preferred stock of the Norfolk and Western, and $3,180,000 of the common stock par value. If the Pennsylvania railroad takes all the Norfolk and Western stock over to the Pennsylvania company, the latter company will have $53,000,000 par value of Norfolk and Western stock of the total of about $124,000,000 stock outstanding.

Pan Handle Involved

It is understood that the negotiations with the Norfolk and Western are being conducted in the name of the Pan Handle road, the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, one of the subsidiaries of the Pennsylvania company. The Pan Handle touches Columbus, Ohio, and so does the Norfolk and Western. It is believed that the Pan Handle road will guarantee eight per cent dividends on the Norfolk and Western stock. This is two per cent greater than is now being paid on the Norfolk and Western stock.

The Norfolk and Western directors are scheduled to meet next week. Relative to the above, the story the World-News of Roanoke says: "The World-News made diligent inquiry at the Roanoke end of the line to ascertain what, if any truth, there is in this report. Norfolk & Western people seen relative to the matter assert that they knew nothing whatever about it and that in their judgment it was purely a revival of a similar report that crops up every year."

The Pennsylvania system has borne a close relation to the Norfolk & Western for years, and this fact seems to have been the cause of many interesting, but altogether imaginary rumors as to a further strengthening of this relation and a distinct merging of the two properties.

It seems manifest, from statements made here this morning, that there is nothing of a substantial character under the New York Times story. The assertions made seem clear-cut and to have a basis in fact, but it is most unreasonable to assume that a transaction of such importance and large proportions could take place without some official knowledge of it getting through to Roanoke.

The World-News can say upon the very best authority that there is not at the Roanoke end of the Norfolk & Western the slightest evidence to show that the New York report is true.

GIRL IS SHOT IN THE KNEE BY YOUNG MAN

VICTIM BELIEVES IT WAS ACCIDENT

While out on a pleasure jaunt with a party of friends Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Miss Pearl Foster, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Foster, well known residents of Carey's Run, was accidentally shot and painfully wounded in the right knee by Homer Gasele, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gasele, of near Union Mills. The shooting took place near the intersection of the Union Mills road and the West side pike. The wounded girl was brought to this city and the bullet was extracted. Miss Foster is employed at 1111 Galia street.

When seen Sunday evening by a Times man, Miss Foster said that herself and a party of girl friends, composed of Cora Foster, Margaret Stricklett, Edna Stricklett and Gladys Gasele, were out for a stroll along the West Side road to take some pictures. As they neared the cross roads, near Carey's Run, they met Cread Journey, Mark Lantz, and Homer Gasele returning from a short visit to Portsmouth in the Journey buggy.

The boys drove up and stopped and exchanged a few pleasantries. Gasele, who had a 22 calibre revolver, fired a few shots in the air, according to the girl, while Edna Stricklett snapped their pictures. It was then agreed that the boys should meet the girls at the Foster home and the party started. As the buggy passed the girls, Gasele leaned over the side of the buggy and fired his revolver, it is said. The bullet struck Miss Foster on the right knee.

Heard Shot, Then Felt Sting

"The first thing I know" after the buggy passed us," asserted Miss Foster, "I heard a shot and felt a stinging sensation in my knee. I did not see Homer shoot, but knew he had a gun for he shot several times when they drove up. He is a good friend of mine and am sure that it was accidental. I believe he just shot back to scare us and accidentally shot me."

After firing the shot, the party drove rapidly down the road, leaving the girls behind, unaware of the accident until one of the girls shouted for them to return. On learning that Miss Foster was shot, they drove back and the injured girl was placed in the buggy and taken to her home, which was but a short distance away.

On arriving, the father was informed of the accident and wanted to call a physician, but the daughter decided to come to Portsmouth, so Cread Journey drove her to the city.

Says It's Usual Thing To Carry a Gun

"Homer did not say anything to me," asserted Miss Foster, "when he returned and learned that he had shot me. But when we arrived at my home, he said I had better go to the first doctor I could find and if he wasn't in to go to another. Homer is in the habit of carrying a revolver. You know, most of the boys down there carry revolvers and shoot them when they go to church or to parties. He is rather careless at times. He shot himself in the arm a year ago last summer. But I don't think he shot me on purpose for we are good friends and there was no cause. I believe he only did it to scare us girls."

"The bullet was from a 22 calibre revolver. It struck me on the right knee," said Miss Foster, pointing to a small hole in her skirt, "and glanced off and lodged in the flesh."

"Gone Tolerant," Practice

The father, Oscar Foster, stated that as far as he knew the shooting was an accident. "It is a practice, down here," he declared with vehemence, "for every little 'squirrel' in the country to carry a gun. When they go to church, they are not satisfied unless they have a gun in their pockets, which they pull out frequently and fire into the air. It is a practice that should be broken up. Now, you understand, that we hold nothing against Homer Gasele for the shooting. He is a nice boy and comes to our house frequently, but the practice of carrying guns among the boys down here should be stopped."

Sheriff E. W. Smith stated that he had not received a warrant for the arrest of Gasele, but arrests would be made if an affidavit was filed. He said he investigated the shooting, just after it happened, and from all reports, it was accidental.

Neither the girl who was shot nor her parents have decided upon any definite action against the Gasele boy.

JOHN R. M'LAUGHLIN BADLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT COLUMBUS

BRIEF ROMANCE BROUGHT TO CLOSE; WIFE OF FORGER TO SEEK DIVORCE

Another chapter in the sensational forgery case in which Onger Mars enacted the principal role, was written in Huntington Saturday afternoon, when the pretty young wife of Mars declared her intention of securing a legal separation from Mars. Relative to the new turn of affairs in Mars' downfall, the Huntington Advertiser Saturday said:

"A dramatic incident marked the end this morning of the brief romance of Mrs. Myrtle Mars, a Catlettsburg girl who was wooed and won about a month ago by Onger Mars, but who declared today that every vestige of her love had been swept away and that she would immediately institute proceedings to secure a divorce."

"The local police and the police of practically every city in the Ohio valley have been searching for Mars during the past month, during which time he has passed worthless checks here and in other cities."

Mars is a young man of good appearance and quiet in manner. He met and learned to love his young wife while she was attending a parochial school in Ashland. Her parents objected to her marriage with Mars, but on February 19th, they eloped and were married. His bad check operations began with a vigor and the preacher who performed the wedding ceremony was the first victim. The belting crowd that night was the second, and clothing dealers, merchants, grocers, furniture store proprietors, banks and individuals followed in rapid succession.

When the police began to close in on the man he took his wife and went to Portsmouth, where he placed her in a respectable boarding house and then returned here. He was arrested in Catlettsburg Thursday night. Following his arrest, T. H. Lester, father of the girl, demanded to know the whereabouts of his daughter, but the accused son-in-law steadily refused to disclose her whereabouts.

"A report was recently circulated that Mars had sold his beautiful young wife to Chicago white slaves. The people of Catlettsburg became so incensed over this possibility and his refusal to tell where she was, that a mob was formed for the purpose of lynching him. However, Mars finally revealed the fact that she was in Portsmouth and the father caught a train there and secured his daughter. They came immediately to this city, where Mars is being held in the city jail."

"The father took her to police headquarters, where she met her husband for the first time since he left her in Portsmouth."

"You have done enough," she said. "You took me from my home and I thought the man I loved was a clean, straightforward gentleman. Now I find he is a self-confessed crook, a forger of checks. I am done with you and intend to take immediate steps to secure a divorce."

"Her husband was taken back to jail."

"She is a beautiful girl, blue-eyed and golden-haired and her sorrow enlisted the sympathy of her hearers when she related the details of her sadly terminated courtship and marriage to Mars."

Mars was arraigned before Magistrate J. T. Stuart this afternoon. He asked for preliminary hearing on the charges against him, indicating that he would attempt to fight the case. His hearing was set for two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in Stuart's court."

Gallipolis, O., March 20.—Walter H. Crossin, mayor of Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., and a former state senator in West Virginia, was drowned in the Ohio river, near here, Saturday night. The body was recovered Sunday.

Cassin, accompanied by J. C. Fowler, a building contractor of Pt. Pleasant, and Clinton Pivener, of this city, went for a motor-boat ride, but when they reached this point the engine became disabled. He notified the police and after a search, which lasted all night, Cassin's body was found in the river. There were no marks of violence on the body and the police believe that the former senator slipped on the icy side of the boat and fell into the water.

No sign of Pivener has been found, but, according to the police, he was seen to leave the boat, and

MANUEL (ORRIN JOHNSON) AND DOLORES (SEENA OWEN) IN "THE PENITENTS," A TRIANGLE-FINE ARTS STORY OF LOVE AND RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION IN NEW MEXICO.

At The Columbia Today

The Penitents are a fanatical set who are flourishing in Mexico in the seventeenth century. They indulge in cruel tortures during their ceremonies. While celebrating the Crucifixion in a realistic way up in the mountains the Indians attack their settlement. When the Penitents return to the settlement they find an old servant and a little boy named Manuel as the only survivors. Manuel is heir to a rich farm or hacienda, and the greedy leader of the Penitents persuades the band to take over the farm and keep the lad ignorant of his rights. When Manuel is grown up the Penitents become suspicious of the inquiries of a priest named Father David in regard to the injuries that may result in the death of John R. McLaughlin, aged 50, a brother of Mrs. Harry W. Miller, of this city, were suffered in a serious automobile collision, which occurred Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Twelfth avenue and Summit street, in Columbus. His skull was fractured and Mr. McLaughlin's condition is regarded as grave.

Two other men, Frank W. Kulehar, a son-in-law of Mr. McLaughlin, of Chicago, and H. D. Bauer, of 2677 Indianapolis avenue, Columbus, were also badly injured in the collision. Kulehar was bruised about the head and back. Bauer received a dislocated hip and suffered lacerations to the head.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of this city, left Sunday morning for Columbus to be at the bedside of Mr. McLaughlin. Mrs. Miller's brother, who is in the Protestant Hospital.

Miss Margaret Miller, of Sixth street, this city, received word Sunday afternoon that Mr. McLaughlin had a fighting chance for his life. It was at first stated by his physician that he could not live, and the fact that he was alive Sunday afternoon strengthens the hopes of the relatives and friends of the victim that he will recover.

Mr. McLaughlin resides on Dublin Road, near Columbus, and is general manager of the Central Auto and Vehicle company. He was for years engaged in the horse business and is recognized as one of the best known horse raisers and importers in the United States.

BOY IS BITTEN BY A BULL DOG

Howard, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haney, who reside in Stewartsville near New Boston, was severely bitten on the right leg above the knee by a bull dog with which he was playing near his home Sunday afternoon. The flesh on the boy's leg above the knee was badly torn. The lacerations were dressed and con- sidered by Dr. Chas. H. Dawson. Health Officer Martin Hall was notified and he instructed the owner of the dog to lock it up for several days to determine whether it is afflicted with rabies.

POLITICS

"Ten days ago," says James W. Faulkner in the Cincinnati Enquirer, "Willis, Daugherty, Woodmanson, Burton, Herriek and others of the republican caboodle were wildly yawning about Wilson trying to bring on war because he was against the McLenore resolution and raising the dickens with him because he wasn't invading Mexico."

"The McLenore resolution is overwhelmingly defeated, the republicans in Congress divided up on the question, and Vills makes his dash across the border, gun and torch in hand."

"The situation had slopped completely around, which happening moved the good young governor to say irritably at Jackson that the president was pursuing a 'zig zag course. Backed into a corner, Daugherty dropped the war issue and contented himself with declaring the Democratic party to be the greatest enemy of this country and calling upon his hearers to rise and shake off the shackles of Southern domination."

Concerning politics in the Sixth district, he says: "Major J. L. Hudson is 'Stomping' around Scioto county and protesting that V. A. Inman shouldn't be re-nominated for Congress in the Sixth district on the Democratic ticket, it might turn out that next November, Clermont county will have both candidates."

"The Republicans will re-nominate C. C. Kearns, Great American Explainer, who lives at Andia. That's one. The second may be former State Senator W. F. Roudsboro, farmer, lawyer and friend of the masses. Noticing the conscription down in Portsmouth between Hudson and Inman 'Roude' is rushing around the jimson weed territory and whispering to the husbandmen that this is the time for the farmers to get together, the city fellows being in a scrap."

"Two years ago, Hudson was touted as a sure winner in the primaries, having served with distinction in the General Assembly as Senator. But something happened two weeks before the nomination and Inman just naturally walked in a winner only to get licked at the polls by a narrow margin."

"Pay Up Week" was a dead-end success, according to an announcement made by R. E. Thomas, secretary of the Business Men's Association, Monday morning. "There was approximately $50,000 collected by the merchants," said Mr. Thomas. "The opinion is expressed that he became frightened when he was unable to rescue Cassin and fled.
